

EcoBroker: The Green Designation™ for Real Estate Professionals

EcoBroker is the premier energy and environmental designation program for real estate professionals, developed and taught by experts in the fields of energy efficiency, environment and real estate.

EcoBroker's award winning curriculum guides you through the latest topics influencing the way your clients buy and sell real estate. Thanks to RockWest Home Services, you can take EcoBroker's premier energy and environmental designation training completely on line by clicking on this convenient link <http://www.ecobroker.com/director.aspx?code=CT1596> .

The program is approved for 10 hours of real estate continuing education in New York (up to 18 hours in selected states; check individual state agency), this designation shows how to make the energy and environmental market a profitable part of your business that will help you earn more commission income, solidify relationships, and the green way to differentiate yourself in today's real estate market.

Learn more about the EcoBroker Designation.